I. BACKGROUND AND NEED FOR LEGISLATION

OVERVIEW

With the enactment of the Older Americans Act in 1965, Congress created a new Federal program specifically designed to meet the social services needs of older persons. The act is the major vehicle for the organization and delivery of supportive and nutrition services to older persons. It authorizes a wide array of service programs through a nationwide network of 57 State agencies on aging and 655 area agencies on aging. It also supports the only Federally sponsored job creation program benefiting low-income older persons; is a source of Federal funding for training, research, and demonstration activities in the field of aging; authorizes a separate program for supportive and nutrition services for older Indians and Native Hawaiians; and authorizes a program to protect the rights of vulnerable older persons. FY2000 appropriations are $1.5 billion.

The Administration on Aging (AOA) within the Department of Health and Human Services (DHHS) administers all of the act's programs except for the community service employment program, administered by the Department of Labor (DOL), and the commodity or cash-in-lieu of commodities portion of the nutrition program, administered by the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA).

The act was first enacted in the 89th Congress and was signed into law on July 14, 1965. The act has been amended 13 times—in 1967, 1969, 1972, 1973, 1974, 1975, 1977, 1978, 1981, 1984, 1986, 1987, and most recently in 1992. The original legislation established AOA within DHHS (then the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare) and created a State grant program for community planning and services programs, as well as authority for research, demonstration, and training programs.

The 1972 amendments created the national nutrition program, authorizing funds for the development of congregate meals projects. In addition to providing meals, Congress envisioned the program to serve as an important vehicle for fostering social interaction among participants and to facilitate the delivery of social services to them.

The 1973 reauthorization brought major changes to the act through the introduction of a nationwide network of area agencies on aging. Area agencies are given the responsibility for planning and coordination of, and advocacy for, programs for older persons within planning and services areas designated by State agencies on aging. In addition, the 1973 amendments authorized the community service employment program. Congress intended the program to be a source of income and subsidized employment for low-income persons aged 55 and over who work in community service activities.

The next major amendments occurred in 1978. Congress added a separate authorization for home-delivered nutrition services, which, until that time, were provided at the option of States. The 1978 law established requirements for a statewide nursing home ombudsman program to be responsible for the investigation and resolution of complaints of nursing home residents. In addition, the law included requirements that States give preference to providing services to older persons who have the greatest social or economic need for services, and added a new title which specifically authorized grants for supportive and nutrition services to Indian tribal organizations.

Amendments in 1984 emphasized that State and area agencies were to give particular attention to the needs of low-income and minority older persons, among other amendments. Amendments in 1987 added separate authorizations of appropriations for several new programs, including disease prevention and health promotion services, in-home services for the frail elderly, prevention of elder abuse, neglect, and exploitation, and the long-term care ombudsman program. In the most recent amendments in 1992, Congress restructured the act to create a new title designed to consolidate and expand programs that focus on protection of the rights of vulnerable older persons.

SUMMARY OF OLDER AMERICANS ACT TITLES

Title I, declaration of objectives, sets out broad social policy objectives designed to improve the lives of all older Americans, including those related to income, health, housing, long-term care, employment, retirement, and community services.

Title II, Administration on Aging, establishes the AOA as the chief Federal agency advocate for older persons.

Title III, grants for State and community programs on aging, authorizes grants to State and area agencies on aging to act as advocates for services for older persons and to coordinate programs on their behalf. Funds are distributed to State agencies on aging based on a formula that takes into account a State's relative population aged 60 or over as compared to all States. State agencies in turn award funds to area agencies on aging which are responsible for administration of title III funds in their respective planning and service areas.

Funds are authorized for a wide range of supportive services with priority on access services (such as outreach and transportation), in-home services, and legal assistance. In addition, the act authorizes separate appropriations for congregate and home-delivered nutrition services, supplemental assistance for nutrition services through the USDA, and for disease prevention and health promotion activities.

Title III requires that services be available to all older persons, but be targeted on those persons in greatest social and economic need, with particular attention to low-income minority older persons. Means tests are prohibited, but the law requires that older persons be given an opportunity to make voluntary contributions toward the costs of services.

Title IV, training, research, and discretionary projects and programs, authorizes the Assistant Secretary for Aging to award funds for training, research, and demonstration projects in the field of aging. Funds are to be used to expand knowledge about aging and the aging process and to test innovative ideas about services and programs for older persons. In recent years, title IV has supported a wide range of projects, including community-based long-term care, Alzheimer's disease support services, career preparation and continuing education in the field of aging, and legal assistance, elder abuse prevention, and long-term care ombudsman support projects.

Title V, community service employment for older Americans, authorizes funds to subsidize part-time community service jobs for unemployed, low-income persons 55 years old and over who have poor employment prospects. Enrollees are paid the higher of the Federal or State minimum wage or the local prevailing rate of pay for similar employment, and work in a wide variety of community service activities, including education, health care, senior centers, and nutrition services for older persons. Funds to operate the program are allocated to 10 national organizations and to State agencies.

Title VI, grants to Native Americans, authorizes funds for social and nutrition services to older Indians and Native Hawaiians.

Funds are awarded directly to tribal organizations by the Assistant Secretary for Aging.

Title VII, vulnerable elder rights protection activities, authorizes funds for activities that protect the rights of the vulnerable elderly. Programs authorized are: the long-term care ombudsman program; programs to prevent elder abuse, neglect, and exploitation; elder rights and legal assistance; and outreach, counseling, and assistance programs on insurance and public benefits. Title VII also authorizes an elder rights program for Native American elderly. Funds are distributed to State agencies on aging based on a formula which takes into account State population aged 60 or over. Of these programs, only the long-term care ombudsman and programs to prevent elder abuse, neglect, and exploitation received funds for FY2000.

Authorizations of appropriations for programs under the Older Americans Act expired at the end of FY1995. However, programs have continued to be funded through appropriations legislation for the Departments of Labor, Health and Human Services, Education and related agencies, and the Department of Agriculture for FY1996–FY2000.

II. LEGISLATIVE HISTORY AND COMMITTEE ACTION

Beginning on March 3, 1999, the Subcommittee on Aging held a series of 6 hearings and received testimony from over 30 witnesses on topics related to reauthorization of the Older Americans Act (OAA). The first hearing presented subcommittee members with an overview of the various OAA programs. Subsequent subcommittee hearings covered related aging issues, including: Elder Abuse, March 23; Supportive Services, April 30; State and Local Views, May 17; Longevity in the Workplace, May 27; and Long-Term Family Caregiver Programs, June 22.

Senate bill 1536 was introduced on August 5, 1999, by the aging subcommittee chairman, Senator DeWine. The bill was referred to the Committee on Health, Education, Labor, and Pensions. Senate bill 1536 was considered in an executive session of the committee held Friday, July 21, 2000. Senators Jeffords, DeWine, Kennedy, and Mikulski offered an amendment in the nature of a substitute which was considered, amended to include funding provisions and technical corrections, and unanimously adopted by voice vote and favorably reported to the full Senate.

III. COMMITTEE VIEWS

Through the Older Americans Act Amendments of 2000, the committee intends to strengthen and modernize the Older Americans Act to prepare for a new generation of older individuals and foster and support the independence and dignity of today's older adults. In 1999, 1 in 8 Americans was age 65 or older, but in 2030 approximately 1 in 5 Americans will be 65 or older. In order to meet the needs of both the World War II veterans and the baby boom generation, aging services need increased strength and focus. It is important to build on those programs and approaches that have proven useful in the act's 35-year history, to revise those in need of modernization, and to foster collaborative innovation within experienced programs and their providers. The committee reaffirms its commitment to OAA programs and strongly encourages the Appropriations Committee to move toward the authorized funding levels in this bill as expeditiously as possible.

TITLE II—ADMINISTRATION

The committee establishes a pension counseling and information program to be administered by the Assistant Secretary, including the establishment of a national hotline to provide information regarding pension and other retirement benefits and rights related to these benefits. The committee understands the importance of these services and recognizes the benefits of the pension counseling programs. These programs foster and support the efforts of older adults to achieve and maintain economic security so that Social Security is not their sole source of income in retirement years.

The committee acknowledges the instrumental role that the earlier White House conferences on aging played in developing aging policy by reauthorizing the conference and, therefore, we require the President to convene a White House conference on aging by December 31, 2005. The committee is concerned that the last White House conference on aging's work product was not as helpful to the administration or Congress as earlier conferences in identifying or addressing the needs of older individuals. Consequently, the bill limits the reauthorized conference to developing 50 recommendations on (1) how objectives of the Older Americans Act can be met by using the resources and talents of older individuals and of individuals from the public and private sectors; and (2) evaluating how national policies are prepared to respond to the needs of the baby boom generation. The committee views these focused topics to be vitally important for thorough exploration and expects the resulting work product to be highly useful to the administration and Congress. The committee recognizes the breadth of interest and talents available for planning a White House conference on aging and urges the Secretary to involve Native Americans, the Director of the National Senior Service Corps, and other interested groups in planning for the conference. The committee urges the Assistant Secretary to provide advice to States in selecting delegates and preparing them for the conference.

TITLE III—GRANTS FOR STATE AND COMMUNITY PROGRAMS ON AGING

The committee acknowledges the critical need to update the title III interstate funding formula to reflect recent population data to insure that funds are available to the neediest elders. The interstate funding will first be distributed based on each State's proportionate share of the population aged 60 and over. However, no State will receive less than its FY2000 funding amount plus a minimum increase equal to no less than 20 percent of the percentage increase in appropriations. If appropriations decline in a future year, allotments for all States are to be reduced proportionately.

It is the committee's intent for a State to expend in subsequent years, at the minimum, the amount spent by the State on its Long-Term Care Ombudsman Program in FY2000, in addition to any increase in funding provided for ombudsman activities in each fiscal year under title VII.

The committee urges State agencies on aging to coordinate and enhance services for older individuals with disabilities and severe disabilities, including older blind individuals, with other agencies providing such services. The committee understands that 1 out of every 6 people over the age of 55 and 1 out of every 3 people over the age of 85 is classified as legally blind. In addition, more than 50 percent of new cases of blindness occur in individuals over age 65. The committee recognizes that coordination of services for older individuals with disabilities is important to helping older individuals with disabilities remain as active and independent as possible, and the Older Americans Act can play an important role in achieving this goal.

The committee has modified the nutrition program for the elderly administered by the U.S. Department of Agriculture. The current formula allocates funds among States on the basis of an estimate of the number of meals to be served in the current year. The allocation is made through a per meal reimbursement calculated from the estimate. Often the number of meals served greatly exceeds the estimate, and as a result, the Department of Agriculture is required to reduce the amount of the per meal reimbursement very late in the program year. This readjustment is disruptive to State and local providers and administrators. Under the new provisions included in the bill, each State will receive, for each fiscal year, a cash grant for use in its nutrition programs that bears the same ratio to appropriations as title III meals served in the State in the preceding year bore to the total number of title III meals served in all States. Since this will be based on the actual number of meals served in the previous year, it will eliminate the estimated numbers, and State and local programs will no longer be subjected to readjustments in their funding.

In evaluating the need for supportive service in section 307(a) including the use of volunteers, it is the intent of the committee that special attention be paid to those older individuals with the greatest social and economic needs. Unless special attention is paid, their need for use of alternative resources for supportive services, transportation, and nutrition can be overlooked or may not be accurately assessed. The standardized process to be developed should reach out to these special populations to assess their needs and services that are actually being delivered now.

The Department of Health and Human Services Office of the Inspector General reported in 1996 that 36 States have implemented cost sharing for services funded at the State or local level. States report that with cost sharing for State and local services, they have expanded both the amount of services and the numbers of people receiving services. The committee understands the need of State and local programs to increase flexibility and for coordination between Older Americans Act programs and programs funded at the State and local levels. In order to expand vital services and to facilitate flexibility, the bill includes a provision to permit States to implement cost sharing for all services provided under the Older Americans Act except for the following services: (1) information and assistance, outreach, benefits counseling, or case management services; (2) ombudsman, elder abuse prevention, legal assistance, or other consumer protection services; (3) congregate and home-delivered meals; and (4) any services delivered through tribal organizations.

The committee acknowledges that significant concerns have been raised regarding the inclusion of cost sharing for Older Americans Act services. However, the committee believes that substantial safeguards have been included in order to protect older individuals. Older individuals with income at or below the Federal poverty line are exempted from cost sharing, and States may set the threshold income level above the Federal poverty line. States may not consider any asset or property other than the income when defining who is exempt from cost sharing, when creating the sliding scale to implement cost sharing or when seeking contributions. Moreover, a State that implements cost sharing shall require each area agency on aging to ensure that the area agency and each involved service provider will (1) protect the privacy of older individuals, (2) establish procedures for accounting for payments, (3) use the payment received to expand the service for which the payment was received, (4) consider only income and no other assets, savings, or property in determining whether the older individual is above the Federal poverty line or other level set by the State for cost sharing, (5) not deny services if the older individual either falls below the Federal poverty line or other level set by the State for cost sharing, or if the older individual fails to make the cost sharing payment, (6) determine eligibility for cost sharing only by a declaration of the individual's income (that may be made by a family member, guardian, or other representative, if the individual is unable to complete that declaration) without any separate verification of that declared income, and (7) widely distribute to older individuals State-created written materials that clearly describe how cost sharing is implemented, who is exempt from cost sharing, and other criteria. This material must explain that older individuals will not be denied services under this act because of income or the failure of the older individual to make the cost sharing payment. The materials shall be produced in languages that reflect the reading abilities of the older individuals in the planning and service area.

The committee is aware that implementing cost sharing may not be practical for every area agency in a State that chooses to implement cost sharing. Some have expressed concern that cost sharing might encourage some service providers to reach out to recipients better prepared to share costs, thus undermining efforts to reach low-income elders. For that reason, the bill includes a waiver provision to permit an area agency on aging to request a waiver from implementing cost sharing where a significant proportion of the older individuals within the planning and service area have incomes below the level at which cost sharing is to be implemented, or where implementing cost sharing would impose an unreasonable cost or administrative burden to the area agency on aging. The committee believes that the latter waiver criterion is applicable to area agencies on aging serving very small numbers of older adults. It is a State that determines whether an area agency's request meets the requirements.

The committee is aware of the importance that voluntary participant contributions have played and continue to play in providing additional resources for senior meal programs and other Older Americans Act services resulting in program expansion. For this reason, the committee has included language in the bill that explicitly allows both the acceptance and solicitation of voluntary contributions, so long as the solicitation methods are noncoercive. This provision of the bill is intended to furnish flexibility to local meal programs and other service providers in developing and implementing voluntary financial contribution methods that are appropriate to the particular programs and populations served.

It is the committee's intent to allow senior meal programs, at their option, to provide clients written information about voluntary contributions. The committee recognizes noncoercive methods to include, but not be limited to, the provision of written information to clients. This information may be in the form of individualized client benefit summaries or reminders, which may include the number of meals or services received within a specific time period, the actual cost of providing those meals, and a suggested contribution for those services. All solicitation materials should make clear that contributions are entirely voluntary, that there is no obligation to contribute, and that services will not be denied or curtailed if contributions are not made. Whether a participant chooses to make a voluntary contribution and the amount of any such contribution shall be kept confidential.

The committee expects that States, area agencies on aging, service providers, and older adults will collaboratively examine the best methods of offering the opportunity to voluntarily donate or contribute to services. Those methods need to take into account methods currently being used for Federal, State, or locally funded services; how cost sharing is being implemented; and how older individuals using multiple services by one or more providers might be approached. Also, each Older Americans Act funded service should be analyzed individually. For example, an approach appropriate for a congregate meal site or transportation service may not be appropriate for a telephone reassurance or long-term care ombudsman program. States, area agencies on aging, and service providers may determine that voluntary contributions for some services or situations, such as elder abuse, neglect, or exploitation, are not appropriate and will not be solicited.

The committee is particularly aware of concerns that the number of low-income and/or minority older individuals receiving services under the act may decline with the implementation of cost sharing. To ensure that does not happen, before cost sharing is implemented, each State and area agency on aging must develop plans designed to make sure that participation in cost shared services does not decrease. These plans should specify that: efforts will be made to ensure that the written materials explaining cost sharing are known and understood by all providers and their staff and volunteers; States, area agencies, and providers that have not had cost sharing programs have sufficient time to consult with those that have prior to implementation; sufficient and effective data collection systems have been developed to monitor the effects of cost sharing on low-income and/or minority older individuals and services; and necessary and appropriate time frames for analysis of the collected data and correction plans are designed and implemented. States and area agencies on aging shall, in conducting public hearings on State and area plans, solicit the views of older individuals, service providers, and other stakeholders, on implementation of cost sharing within the State or service area. The Assistant Secretary also shall take corrective action in accordance with section 315(d), if the Assistant Secretary finds that there is a disparate impact on low-income minority older individuals in any State or region within the State regarding the provision of services.

In section 316, the committee intends to give the Secretary discretion to allow States new flexibility to implement and evaluate innovations and improvements in programming and service delivery systems. For example, a State may want to contract directly with one or more senior centers to develop a new method of preparing adults aged 60 to 65 for retirement or to attract new participants to receive services or to volunteer to serve others. The committee supports such efforts including a collaborative planning process with a wide range of stakeholders, no diminishment of current services, a time limited demonstration, and a thoughtful evaluation before and after the effort.

National Family Caregiver Support Program

According to the 1994 National Long-Term Care Survey, there are more than 7 million informal caregivers, i.e., spouses, adult children, other relatives, and friends. These caregivers are the sole source of assistance for almost two-thirds of older persons with disabling and chronic conditions. It is estimated that the services provided by these unpaid caregivers, if replaced with paid staff, would cost at least $45 billion to $95 billion per year. The committee notes that the authorization of $125 million for this program, though significant for a new initiative, represents a level of funding that would have a meaningful impact on the lives of thousands of American families. Therefore, the committee strongly urges the appropriations committee to fully fund this critically important initiative.

Research has established that caregiving can be financially, physically, and emotionally burdensome to the caregiver. Caregivers often face conflicts between their work schedules and their caregiving responsibilities, as well as suffer from physical and mental ailments brought on by the stress of caregiving.

The National Family Caregiver Support Program provides much-needed assistance to caregivers in the form of grants to States for support services such as information and assistance, counseling and support groups, respite care, and supplemental services. The funds are distributed to States based on the State's relative number of elderly in need (taking into account age, poverty, and minority status) and the State's relative capacity to meet those needs. Therefore, States with weak tax bases receive relatively more, because they are less able to fund the needs of their elderly population from State resources.

The services of the National Family Caregiver Support Program are also extended to older individuals caring for relative children, as well as older individuals caring for their adult children with mental retardation and related developmental disabilities. According to the U.S. Census Bureau, in 1997, 3.9 million children, 6 percent of U.S. children under the age of 18, were living in homes maintained by their grandparents, an increase of 76 percent from 2.2 million in 1970. Nineteen percent of these grandparents are 65 years old and older. Nearly half a million individuals with mental retardation and related developmental disabilities who are living at home receive care from caregivers who are 60 years old or older.

A State is limited to using 10 percent of its total Federal and non-Federal share on support services for grandparents and older individuals who are relative caregivers.

The committee clarifies that funding for the National Family Caregiver Support Program is to be allocated within a State in the same manner as funding for other title III programs—supportive services, congregate and home-delivered meals, and health promotion. Also, the committee expects that the innovation grant programs, funds set aside under the National Family Caregiver Support Program, will be used by AOA to develop and test new approaches for providing direct services to caregivers in local communities as outlined in the bill.

The committee believes that the Bureau of the Census should work collaboratively with AOA to ensure that AOA has the data necessary to allot Federal funds under section 303 (amending section 304 of the act) and section 373. These data should be provided such that AOA's ability to provide needed services is not diminished.

TITLE IV—TRAINING, RESEARCH, AND DISCRETIONARY PROJECTS AND PROGRAMS

The committee has consolidated current law provisions authorizing training, research, and discretionary projects under title IV. Several new discretionary projects have been added, and a number of authorized projects that did not receive funding have been eliminated. New projects added include: (1) older women's protection from violence projects; (2) health care services demonstration projects in rural areas; (3) computer training; and (4) technical assistance to improve transportation for seniors.

TITLE V—STRENGTHENING AND MODERNIZING THE SENIOR EMPLOYMENT PROGRAM

The Senior Community Service Employment Program authorized by title V of the Older Americans Act is the Nation's only employment and training program aimed exclusively at low-income older persons—and it will play an increasingly important role as the baby boom generation ages. There will be 1.4 million more low-income persons over the age of 55 in the year 2005 than there were a decade earlier. Many of them will want to continue working.

The title V program serves over 90,000 low-income elderly persons every year. Eighty percent of these participants are age 60 or over, and 16 percent are above 75 years of age. Employment obtained through this program provides these workers with needed economic support. But it does much more than that. It keeps them active and involved in their communities, not isolated at home. It provides them with the opportunity to make important contributions to their communities and to learn new skills, and it enhances their sense of dignity and self-esteem. In this legislation, we have significantly strengthened the Senior Community Service Employment Program and enhanced its ability to meet the employment needs of aging Americans.

Statement of purpose

Through its revisions of title V of the Older Americans Act, the committee intends that the Department of Labor make the first significant changes to the Senior Community Service Employment Program (SCSEP) since its creation. The committee acknowledges that the SCSEP has been largely successful in providing subsidized employment opportunities for program enrollees, as well as valued services to communities across the country. However, the committee believes more can be done to strengthen and modernize the program, enhance its ability to meet the changing needs of the elder work force, and thereby increase the numbers of individuals served by the program with a broader array of employment services and opportunities. The revised purpose statement of title V reflects the committee's intent to maintain the community service nature of the program and to place a greater emphasis on the economic self-sufficiency of eligible persons and its desire to increase the numbers of persons who may benefit from placement in unsubsidized employment positions in both the public and the private sectors.

Coordination with the Workforce Investment Act

The Workforce Investment Act of 1998 (WIA) is the first major reform of the Nation's job training programs in 15 years, and the "one-stop" service delivery system is the foundation of the new legislation. The one-stop system facilitates the coordination of programs and activities so that the customer has access to a seamless system of work force investment services. Such services typically encompass outreach, common intake, counseling, case management, job development and referral, and training. WIA also establishes the SCSEP as a partner in the one-stop delivery system so that the many work force investment programs can offer information and access to program services at customer-friendly employment centers. The complementary language in S. 1536 reinforces the connection between WIA and SCSEP which will aid in coordinating WIA with the SCSEP in key areas, and will allow older individuals easier access to appropriate service provided under both programs. This partnership gives low-income, older job seekers access to immediate information and, if determined eligible, enrollment into appropriate services, such as training that will qualify them for job openings in the public or the private sectors.

Strengthening program administration

During the aging subcommittee hearing held May 27, 1999, on Longevity in the Workplace, SCSEP stakeholders raised concerns about the program's operations which convinced the committee that the administration of SCSEP could be strengthened. Several issues were raised regarding performance measures and program accountability, the lack of responsiveness of the program to the shifting population patterns, and the changing employment needs of older Americans. To that end, S. 1536 significantly strengthens program accountability and monitoring and establishes a system of performance-based evaluation for all program grantees.

New provisions have been added to the act requiring the Secretary of Labor to determine the initial eligibility of grantees based upon their demonstrated responsibility to administer Federal funds. In making an eligibility determination, the Secretary is authorized to consider any information, including the organization's history in the management of other grants. Senate bill 1536 stipulates that a grant applicant may not be selected as a grantee under the title V program, if the grantee is found to be not responsible. The committee strongly believes that the Secretary should ensure that all grantees are evaluated and meet the responsibility tests of the program. The committee believes such attentive grants management protocols by the Department will insure the continued success of the title V program. This renewed, more focused grants management program should incorporate the committee's goals of increased economic security for enrollees while expanding their employment options and their numbers.

The committee believes that more clarity can be brought to the use of Federal funds in administering the SCSEP and has established two cost categories, administrative costs and programmatic costs, in lieu of the three categories currently used by the program. Senate bill 1536 maintains the current law requirement that only 13.5 percent of Federal funds may be used for administrative costs (with a waiver to 15 percent only under certain circumstances and with the Secretary's approval). The bill also provides that grantees must pass along to entities operating the funded project (including State or local offices, subgrantees, subcontractors, or other affiliates of the organization or agency) a sufficient portion of the administrative cost allocation to cover the administrative activities under the grant that are carried out by these entities. For example, if the local affiliate of a Department of Labor grantee is performing 70 percent of the local administrative functions, then the Department of Labor grantee should be passing on 70 percent of the grant's administrative funding to the local affiliate.

The bill further requires that at least 75 percent of Federal funding be spent on the wages and fringe benefits of enrollees. Based on records maintained by the Department of Labor, the committee believes that dedicating a higher level of Federal funds to the wages and fringe benefits of enrollees is attainable. The committee urges that the Department seek a higher level of commitment to enrollee wages and fringe benefits as a goal for all the program's grantees. The committee remains concerned about the cost allocations for the SCSEP. The committee expects the Department of Labor to examine and pursue program objectives to assure that program enrollees will receive maximum wages and fringe benefits while providing for the highest level of training and services for older Americans seeking employment opportunities.

Senate bill 1536 requires the Secretary to promulgate regulations establishing grantee performance indicators and to publish performance levels that will promote continuous improvement, and through which the program accomplishments of all title V grantees must be assessed on an annual basis. Under S. 1536, these performance measures must include the following indicators: the placement and retention of enrollees in unsubsidized employment; the number of persons served (especially those with the greatest economic or social need, the poorest employment history or prospects, and those over age 60); the community services provided; the satisfaction of enrollees, employers, and their host agencies with the experiences and services provided; and any additional indicators determined appropriate by the Secretary. The Secretary is required to set the level of performance that must be met by each grantee for each performance measure. Therefore, during the first year that performance measures are established, the Secretary will be promulgating a set of performance measures (consisting of a level of performance for each indicator) for each grantee operating a project under the title. For placement of enrollees into unsubsidized public or private employment, the Secretary shall establish a performance level of not less than 20 percent, but this level (as with all other performance levels) may be adjusted to reflect high unemployment or rates of poverty, significant downturns in the economy, or the enrollment of a significant number or proportion of individuals with one or more barriers to employment relative to grantees serving other areas of the State or Nation.

Upon establishing the performance measures, the bill authorizes the Secretary to award grants for a 3-year period, thereby allowing a greater departmental focus on ensuring performance improvement by grantees.

In addition, the bill establishes a system of monitoring, oversight, and accountability for grantees. State agency grantees' performance will be evaluated in their respective States, while public and private nonprofit agencies and organizations will be evaluated on the basis of their national performance (an aggregate evaluation) and in each State in which they operate a project. A grantee that persistently fails to achieve the established State- and national-level performance measures, and for which there are not significant mitigating factors contributing to the grantee's poor performance, will be subject to the reallocation or recompetition of its job slots to new or existing grant applicants.

The committee expects the Secretary, in providing technical assistance or conducting any competition for program funds as a result of inadequate performance, to focus on those local projects or geographic areas of a grantee's entire grant that are not meeting performance measures. It is not the committee's intent to disrupt sections or parts of a grantee's overall program or operation that is serving enrollees and communities well.

Improving the allocation of program resources

Testimony provided to the aging subcommittee, and subsequent, extensive meetings with title V stakeholders, revealed that disagreements exist regarding the allocation of senior employment positions between States, within States, and between program grantees. The committee is convinced that more could be done to seek greater equity in the allocation of enrollee positions and to ensure greater participation in resource allocation decisions.

First, the committee believes that there is a need for greater public input into the planning and implementation process for senior employment services, including the participation of Governors, State agencies, and area agencies on aging and other stakeholders in the aging network in concert with nonprofit grantees and the Department of Labor. The committee expects the listed stakeholders to work collaboratively to strengthen and maintain the SCSEP program's goals of subsidized employment, providing community services and assisting older workers to gain the unsubsidized employment opportunities they desire.

As such, S. 1536 establishes a new, participatory planning process in order to develop State Senior Employment Services Coordination Plans. Under S. 1536, each State, working in concert with aging network stakeholders, is required to identify the number and distribution of eligible persons in the State (including those with greatest economic and social need and minorities), their employment situations and skills, and the localities and populations where title V projects are most needed. States are required, to the extent feasible, to distribute resources equitably, taking into account the State priorities highlighted in a State Senior Employment Services Coordination Plan.

Second, it is the committee's intention to focus the program's Federal funds on those older individuals most in need. Therefore, the interstate formula is first to be distributed based on each State's proportionate share of the population aged 55 and over (based on the most recent population figures available to the Secretary) who are low income. However, no State will receive less than the funding which is sufficient to maintain the level of activities funded in the State in FY2000. Also, each State will receive a minimum increase equal to no less than 30 percent of the percentage increase in appropriations for SCSEP programs. If appropriations are insufficient to meet these requirements, the bill provides for a proportionate reduction of allotments to the States.

Finally, the committee intends that allocating increases in future funding should strike a better balance between State agency grantees and nonprofit agency grantees. For several years, the SCSEP has been a shared, though unbalanced, effort between States and a sole group of 10 national nonprofit organizations. The historic location of job programs administered by nonprofit organizations, coupled with subsequent funding allocations, has resulted in a situation wherein all but 3 State governments have control over the geographic placement of only 22 percent of employment positions within their borders.

The committee recognizes the complexity of establishing and successfully operating senior employment programs and acknowledges the difficulty of transferring existing job slots to new locations within States. Moreover, the committee applauds the success that many of the nonprofit organizations have achieved. However, Governors and the State units on aging argued persuasively that control over the location of SCSEP positions within State borders must be shared. The committee therefore believes that a better balance will be achieved between State agency grantees and nonprofit grantees through a revised formula for new funding beyond that which is needed to maintain the current level of activities among the existing grantees. Senate bill 1536 specifies that the first $35 million in funding made available through the appropriations process—that is, above that which is necessary to maintain the current level of activities among nonprofit and State agency grantees—should be allocated such that 75 percent of the funding is reserved for State agency grantees, and the remaining 25 percent is allotted to nonprofit organization grantees.

Appropriations made available that are not needed to maintain the current level of activities and are in excess of an initial $35 million dollar program increase are to be allotted on an equal basis, with 50 percent reserved to State agency grantees and 50 percent reserved to private or public nonprofit agencies and organizations. Of the amount to be allocated above what is needed to maintain the current level of activities, the Secretary is directed to allot funds to each State on the basis of its relative population aged 55 and over, and by the State's relative per capita income, thus ensuring that each State will receive some portion of new resources in the event that overall program funding levels exceed the amount necessary to maintain the FY2000 level of activities.

The committee recognizes that S. 1536 makes significant changes in the management and operation of this grant program. The committee urges that the administration and Congress assure adequate resources to the Department of Labor to carry out its new obligations and duties.

TITLE VI—AMENDMENTS TO TITLE VI OF THE OLDER AMERICANS ACT
OF 1965

The committee is aware of the lack of long-term care available in Indian communities and that, as a consequence, most long-term care is provided by family members. The committee has created a Native American Caregiver Support Program to be administered by tribal organizations.

The committee has established a "Native American Caregiver Support Program" as a new part C of title VI, similar to the "National Family Caregiver Support Program" in title III. The bill makes clear that part C is a program of grants from the Assistant Secretary to tribal organizations and that the responsibilities of States and area agencies on aging under section 373 (c), (d), and (e) and section 374 of the committee's bill are the responsibilities of tribes under title VI provisions. Thus, for example, it is the committee's intent that the requirement in section 373 (e)(1) that, "The State shall establish standards and mechanisms designed to assure the quality of services provided with assistance made available under this subpart," shall be the responsibility of the tribal organization. In recognition of the sovereignty of Indian tribes and the Federal-tribe relationship, tribes shall have the same authority and responsibilities under the title VI provisions as do the State and the area agencies on aging under title III in the caregiver support program.

TITLE VII—AMENDMENTS TO TITLE VII OF THE OLDER AMERICANS ACT

The committee is aware of growing attention to the financial exploitation of older individuals and clarifies that in requiring the State agency to develop programs to prevent elder abuse, neglect, and exploitation, exploitation includes the financial exploitation of older individuals. The committee further recognizes the need for additional research into the extent and scope of financial exploitation and authorizes the Secretary of HHS to conduct a study of the nature and extent of financial exploitation of older individuals. The Secretary, in carrying out this study, should consult with senior citizen advocacy groups, privacy experts, law centers specializing in elder law, providers of adult protective services, and other experts involved in elder abuse and consumer fraud issues. The committee is also concerned about financial privacy for seniors and suggests that the report, when making recommendations, discuss the balance between an older individual's financial privacy with the need to protect the older individual from financial exploitation.

The committee intends that States and their legal assistance developers should continue to develop the quality and quantity of legal assistance available to older individuals. Particular focus should continue on issues of elder abuse, neglect, and exploitation; the rights of older adults living in institutions; those who have cognitive impairments and are therefore at risk of institutionalization or guardianship; access to Social Security, Medicare, and Medicaid; and prevention and remediation of scams and schemes targeted to the elderly.

The committee's intent is to strengthen the current provisions that ombudsman entities and their individual representatives are to be free of conflict of interest by clarifying that ombudsman entities and their representatives not stand to gain financially from their service as ombudsmen. The committee's intent is to prohibit both paid and volunteer ombudsmen from representing or assisting a resident in any capacity other than as an ombudsman, particularly in any other capacity such as doctor, nurse, lawyer, pharmacist, et cetera, that would result in a financial payment to the ombudsman. This provision is not intended to conflict with provisions related to voluntary contributions to an ombudsman program for its services.

IV. COST ESTIMATE

U.S. CONGRESS,
CONGRESSIONAL BUDGET OFFICE,
Washington, DC, August 25, 2000.

Hon. JAMES M. JEFFORDS,
Chairman, Committee on Health, Education, Labor, and Pensions, U.S. Senate, Washington, DC.

DEAR MR. CHAIRMAN: The Congressional Budget Office has prepared the enclosed cost estimate for S. 1536, the Older Americans Act Amendments of 2000.

If you wish further details on this estimate, we will be pleased to provide them. The CBO staff contact is Christina Hawley Sadoti.
Sincerely,

STEVEN LIEBERMAN
(For Dan L. Crippen, Director).

Enclosure.

S. 1536—Older Americans Act Amendments of 2000

Summary: S. 1536 would authorize spending for fiscal years 2001 through 2005 on programs designed to help older Americans, including the funding of senior centers, supportive services, nutrition services, community service employment, and research on aging. Assuming appropriation of the authorized amounts, including adjustments for inflation after 2001, CBO estimates that implementing S. 1536 would cost $12 billion over the 2001–2005 period. If funding is maintained throughout the period at $2.5 billion, as authorized for 2001, outlays would total $11.6 billion over the five years. Similar existing programs received appropriations of $1.5 billion in fiscal year 2000. Because S. 1536 would not affect direct spending or receipts, pay-as-you-go procedures would not apply to the bill.

S. 1536 contains an intergovernmental mandate as defined in the Unfunded Mandates Reform Act (UMRA). CBO estimates, however, that enacting this mandate would result in no net costs for state, local, or tribal governments, because the bill would authorize appropriations to pay for the mandate. Consequently, the threshold established in UMRA ($55 million in 2000, adjusted annually for inflation) would not be exceeded. Other provisions of the bill would benefit state, local, and tribal governments, and any related costs would be incurred voluntarily. S. 1536 contains no private-sector mandates as defined in UMRA.

Estimated cost to the Federal Government: The estimated budgetary impact of S. 1536 is shown in Table 1. The costs of this legislation fall within budget function 500 (education, training, employment, and social services).

¹ The 2000 level is the amount appropriated for that year for programs authorized under the Older American Act of 1965.Q02
Note.—Components may not sum to totals because of rounding.

Basis of Estimate: S. 1536 would amend the Older Americans Act of 1965 by substituting new authorizations for programs that are broadly similar to those previously authorized. It would authorize appropriations of $2.5 billion for fiscal year 2001 and such sums as may be necessary for subsequent fiscal years for those programs. Except for the pension counseling program, the bill would authorize specific amounts for each program. Assuming that funding for 2002 through 2005 would be the authorized 2001 levels adjusted for inflation, appropriations would reach $2.8 billion by 2005 and would total $13.2 billion over the 2001–2005 period. If adjustments for inflation are not made, appropriations would total $12.7 billion over the same five-year period. The estimated outlays assume the funds would be spent at rates comparable to the historical patterns of the existing programs. The amounts authorized for these programs, assuming inflation adjustments after 2001, are shown in Table 2.

The bill would authorize specific amounts for fiscal year 2001 and such sums as may be necessary for the following fiscal years through 2005 for these programs:

- Administrative expenses for the Administration on Aging, within the Department of Health and Human Services: $29 million;
- Grants for research and demonstration projects: $72 million;
- Eldercare locator services: $1 million;
- Grants to states for supportive services (such as transportation and counseling) and multipurpose senior centers: $507 million;
- Nutrition services (including congregate and home-delivered meals): $705 million;
- A “Nutrition Services Incentive Program,” administered by the Department of Agriculture: $460 million;
- Grants for disease prevention and health promotion: $25 million;
- A family caregiver program designed to provide information and support to individuals who care for elderly family members: $125 million;
- State programs to provide ombudsmen for long-term care: $40 million;
- Grants aimed at the prevention of elder abuse, neglect, and exploitation: $15 million;
- Legal Assistance Development Program: $10 million;
- Grants for Native American programs on aging: $40 million, including $30 million for supportive and nutrition services, $5 million for Native American caregiver support, and $5 million for the protection of the rights of vulnerable seniors; and
- Senior Community Service Employment Program, which is operated by the Department of Labor: $500 million for fiscal year 2001. The bill also would authorize additional funding if it is necessary to provide a minimum of 70,000 part-time jobs for eligible seniors. (The 2001 authorization would fund the minimum number of jobs at the current minimum wage. However, if the minimum wage were to be increased, additional appropriations would be needed.)

S. 1536 also would authorize a White House Conference on Aging, to be held by December 31, 2005. Authorized funding for the conference is $1 million in the year preceding the conference and $3 million in the year of the conference. For purposes of this estimate, CBO has assumed that the conference would be held in fiscal year 2005.

The bill would authorize such sums as may be necessary for grants to states and nonprofit organizations to provide pension counseling and information services. CBO estimates that such grants would cost $10 million, similar to the amount authorized for the Legal Assistance Development Program.

Note.—Components may not sum to totals because of rounding.

Pay-as-you-go considerations: None.

Estimated impact on State, local, and tribal governments: S. 1536 contains an intergovernmental mandate as defined in UMRA because it would require states to provide the services of a state legal assistance developer to protect the legal rights of older individuals. Because this bill would authorize appropriations of $10 million to cover the cost of the services, the threshold established in UMRA ($55 million in 2000, adjusted annually for inflation) would not be exceeded. Under current law, states provide these services as a condition of aid under grants for state and community programs on aging.

The bill also would authorize grants to state, local, and tribal governments to carry out nutrition and support programs for older individuals and their caregivers. CBO estimates that state, local, and tribal governments could receive grants totaling approximately $12 billion over the next five years, and any costs related to receipt of these funds would be incurred voluntarily.

Estimated impact on the private sector: S. 1536 contains no private-sector mandates as defined in UMRA.

Estimate prepared by: Federal Costs: Christina Hawley Sadoti, Ana Traylor, and Valerie Baxter; Impact on State, Local, and Tribal Governments: Susan Sieg Tompkins; Impact on the Private Sector: Rekha Ramesh.

Estimate approved by: Peter H. Fontaine, Deputy Assistant Director for Budget Analysis.

V. REGULATORY IMPACT STATEMENT

The committee has determined that there will be only a negligible increase in the regulatory burden of paperwork as a result of this legislation.

VI. APPLICATION OF LAW TO THE LEGISLATIVE BRANCH

Section 102(b)(3) of Public Law 103–1, the Congressional Accountability Act, requires a description of the application of this bill to the legislative branch. Senate bill 1536 would amend the Older Americans Act of 1965, as amended, which provides grants to States and organizations to make elder care and support services available to older Americans. This requirement would not apply to the legislative branch.

VII. SECTION-BY-SECTION ANALYSIS

Following is a section-by-section analysis of S. 1536, the Older Americans Act Amendments of 2000, as approved by the Senate Committee on Health, Education, Labor, and Pensions on July 21, 2000.

Section 1 cites the bill as the Older Americans Act Amendments of 2000.

Section 2 sets forth the table of contents.

TITLE I—AMENDMENT TO TITLE I OF THE OLDER AMERICANS ACT OF 1965

Section 101. Definitions

Section 101 defines the following terms: disease prevention and health promotion services; in-home services; Native American; domestic violence; and sexual assault.

TITLE II—AMENDMENTS TO TITLE II OF THE OLDER AMERICANS ACT OF 1965 AND THE OLDER AMERICANS ACT AMENDMENTS OF 1987

Subtitle A—Amendments to Title II of the Older Americans Act of 1965

Section 201. Functions of Assistant Secretary

Section 201 requires the Assistant Secretary on Aging in the Department of Health and Human Services (DHHS) to:

- Fund the State Long-Term Care Ombudsman National Resource Center at an amount no less than it received for FY2000;
- Establish information and assistance services as priority services for older individuals, and develop and operate, either directly or through contracts, grants, or cooperative agreements, a National Eldercare Locator Service which provides information and assistance services through a nationwide toll-free number; and
- Establish pension counseling and information projects, as set forth by the bill.

Section 201 also requires the Assistant Secretary to develop and publish, by December 31, 2001, performance outcome measures to be used for planning, managing, and evaluating activities under the act. The Assistant Secretary is required to use data collected by State and area agencies on aging, and by service providers in developing these measures. This section also specifies the process for developing performance outcome measures, including review of measures currently in use, development of a proposed set of measures, pilot testing, evaluation of the testing, and recommendations for modification.

Section 202. Federal Council on Aging

Section 202 eliminates authorization of appropriations for the Federal Council on Aging. (It has not been funded since FY1995.)

Section 202 also adds a new section authorizing the Assistant Secretary to accept, use, and dispose of gifts or donations. Gifts and donations may be used to design and implement demonstration projects; plan and conduct conferences; and develop, publish, and disseminate information on programs and services under the act, and other activities for older persons. Section 206 also requires the Assistant Secretary to establish written guidelines setting forth criteria for determining whether, and under what circumstances, a gift or donation should be declined.

Section 202 also establishes a new section, Pension Counseling and Information. This section requires the Assistant Secretary to award grants for pension counseling and information programs. It sets forth requirements for eligibility for grants, a citizen advisory panel, applications, criteria for awarding grants, and technical assistance and training to entities operating pension counseling and information programs. The section also requires the Assistant Secretary to establish and administer a national telephone hotline that will provide information on pension and other retirement benefits.

The section also requires the Assistant Secretary to report on the pension counseling and information program to the House Committee on Education and the Workforce and the Senate Committee on Health, Education, Labor, and Pensions, within 30 months of enactment. It stipulates that not more than $100,000 may be used by the administration for administrative expenses for this grant program.

Section 203. Evaluation

Section 203 eliminates a requirement for a national evaluation of the nutrition program (which was completed by the Administration on Aging (AoA)).

Section 204. Application of other laws

Section 204 excludes a service or benefit under the Older Americans Act from being considered a Federal public benefit under Section 401(c) of the Personal Responsibility and Work Opportunity Reconciliation Act of 1996.

Section 205. Authorization of appropriations

Section 205 authorizes the following appropriations:

- For administration, salaries, and expenses of the Administration on Aging, $29 million for FY2001, and such sums as may be necessary for FY2002–FY2005;
- For the eldercare locator services, $1 million for FY2001, and such sums as may be necessary for FY2002–FY2005; and
- For pension counseling and information programs, such sums as may be necessary for FY2001 through FY2005.

Subtitle B—Amendments to the Older Americans Act Amendments of 1987

Section 211. White House conference

Section 211 requires the President to convene a White House Conference on Aging by December 31, 2005. The conference is to be planned and conducted by the Secretary of the Department of Health and Human Services (DHHS), in cooperation with the Assistant Secretary for Aging, the Director of the National Institute on Aging (NIA), the Administrator of the Health Care Financing Administration (HCFA), the Administrator of the Social Security Administration, and the heads of other appropriate Federal agencies.

The purposes of the conference are to: evaluate how objectives of the Older Americans Act can be met by using the resources and talents of older individuals, and of individuals from the public and private sectors; evaluate how national policies are prepared and respond to the needs of the baby boom generation; and develop 50 recommendations to guide the President, the Congress, and Federal agencies in serving older individuals.

Section 211 requires that the majority of the White House conference delegates be aged 55 years or older. It also sets forth requirements for appointment of a 17-member policy committee and a chairman, voting rules, and reports.

The section authorizes $1 million for the first fiscal year in which the policy committee plans the conference and for the following fiscal year. It also authorizes $3 million for the year in which the conference is held.

TITLE III—AMENDMENTS TO TITLE III OF THE OLDER AMERICANS ACT OF 1965

Section 301. Purpose

Section 301 amends the title III purpose statement to stipulate that title III funds and non-Federal matching funds are to be used only for activities and services to benefit older individuals and other individuals as provided under title III. It also stipulates that title III does not prohibit State or area agencies on aging from providing services using funds from non-title III funds, or from non-Federal matching funds.

Section 302. Authorization of appropriations

Section 302 authorizes the following appropriations:

- For supportive services, $506,764,000 for FY2001, and such sums as may be necessary for FY2002–FY2005;
- For congregate nutrition services, $505 million for FY2001, and such sums as may be necessary for FY2002–FY2005;
- For home-delivered nutrition services, $200 million for FY2001, and such sums as may be necessary for FY2002–FY2005;
- For disease prevention and health promotion services, $25 million for FY2001, and such sums as may be necessary for FY2002–FY2005; and
- For family caregiver support, $125 million for FY2001, and such sums as may be necessary for FY2002–FY2005. Of these amounts, 4 percent is to be reserved for innovation grant programs, and 1 percent for activities of national significance.

Section 303. Allotment; Federal share

Section 303 amends the title III State allotment formula to stipulate that the Assistant Secretary is required, first, to determine a State's allotment based on its relative share of the total United States population aged 60, and then, to adjust the allotment so that it will receive no less than its FY2000 "hold harmless amount," that is, a State may receive no less than it received in FY2000. (Currently, AoA allots funds to States based, first, on the amount they received in FY1987, and then, on their relative share of the total U.S. population.)

Section 303 further stipulates that when appropriations exceed the FY2000 amount, each State is to receive a percent increase over its FY2000 allotment that is at least 20% of the percentage increase in the total appropriations over the FY2000 allotment to all States.

Section 304. Area plans

Priority services. Section 304 modifies the area plan requirements to specify that each area agency will carry out revised State plan requirements regarding priority services—access, in-home, and legal assistance services. These revised provisions specify that the State agency will use uniform procedures to evaluate the need for supportive services (including legal assistance, information and assistance, and transportation services), nutrition services, and senior centers; develop a process to determine the extent to which public or private programs and resources (including volunteers and programs and services of voluntary organizations) have the capacity and actually meet such need. The area agency must report annually to the State agency regarding expenditures made for the priority services.

Coordination of services for persons with disabilities. Section 304 requires that the area agency will coordinate services with agencies that provide services for older individuals with disabilities, with particular attention to those with severe disabilities.

Case management services. Section 304 requires area agencies to facilitate the coordination of community-based long-term care services, including development of case management services. It clarifies that case management services provided through area agencies will be provided by a public or a private nonprofit agency that:

- Gives each older individual seeking title III services a list of agencies that provide similar services, and a statement, documented by the recipient, specifying that the individual has a right to choose service providers; and
- Has case managers who act as agents for the individual and not as promoters for the service provider.

Service providers in rural areas may obtain waivers of the above requirements.

Hold harmless for the State long-term care ombudsman program. Section 304 requires area agencies to maintain their FY2000 level of expenditures from appropriations under the act for the State long-term care ombudsman program.

Services to Native Americans. Section 304 clarifies provisions regarding services to older Native Americans, including requiring area agencies to make services under the area plan available to older Native Americans to the same extent as services to other older individuals.

Provisions eliminated. Among other things, section 304 also eliminates requirements that area agencies:

- Establish and maintain information and assistance services in sufficient numbers to ensure that all older individuals will have reasonably convenient access to such services;
- Provide technical assistance to providers;
- Develop methods to determine how services priorities are determined;
- Identify agencies involved in prevention, identification, and treatment of elder abuse and determine the need for such services;
- Coordinate title III priority services with organizations involved in assisting victims of Alzheimer's disease and their families;
- Provide older persons with information on education programs at institutions of higher education in the planning and service area;
- Coordinate services with section 202 of the Housing Act of 1959;
- Identify transportation needs of older persons and coordinate such services;
- List the telephone number of the area agency in the local phone book;
- Establish a volunteer service coordinator; and
- Adhere to certain requirements regarding the public purpose mission of title III and disclosure of area agency contractual or commercial relationships.

Section 305. State plans

Case management. Section 305 clarifies current law provisions prohibiting States and area agencies from providing services directly (rather than by grant or contract). It specifies that:

- If a State or area agency is already providing case management services (as of the date of submission of the State plan to the Assistant Secretary, or as of the submission of the area plan to the State agency) and it is specified in the State plan, it may continue to provide case management; and
- Area agencies may directly provide information and assistance and outreach services if it is specified in the State plan.

Hold harmless for the State long-term care ombudsman program.

Section 305 requires that State agencies maintain their FY2000 level of expenditures from appropriations under the act for the State long-term care ombudsman program.

Hold harmless for expenditures in rural areas. Section 305 requires that State agencies maintain their FY2000 level of expenditures for funding of services in rural areas.

Public hearings. Section 305 amends the current requirement that State agencies provide area agencies, and current or applicant providers, opportunities for hearings upon their request. Instead, it requires that these entities have opportunities for public hearings, and adds recipients of services to the list of those eligible for public hearings.

Provisions eliminated. Among other things, section 305 eliminates requirements that State agencies:

- Use methods of administration that are necessary and proper for efficient plan administration, including merit personnel standards;
- Adhere to certain requirements regarding the public purpose mission of title III and disclosure regarding contractual or commercial relationships;
- Solicit the views of persons knowledgeable about needs of low-income, minority older persons (in evaluating the needs of such persons);
- Establish and maintain information and assistance services to ensure that all older individuals in the State will have reasonably convenient access to such services;
- Provide that preference will be given to hiring older workers, and special consideration will be given to individuals with formal training in the field of aging;
- Provide in-service training for personnel funded under the act;
- Carry out certain requirements related to acquisition, alteration, or renovation of centers to serve as multipurpose senior centers; and
- Establish a volunteer service coordinator program.

Nutrition program. The bill eliminates certain provisions related to the nutrition program, including requirements that primary consideration be given to congregate projects; projects be in sites in proximity to areas where a majority of older persons reside; outreach services be conducted to reach the maximum number of persons; consideration be given to providing home-delivered meals; and the State develop nonfinancial criteria for home-delivered meals and periodically evaluate the needs of home-delivered meal recipients.

Section 306. Planning, coordination, evaluation, and administration of State plans

Transfer of funds between congregate and home-delivered nutrition programs. Section 306 allows States to transfer up to 30 percent of their allotments for congregate and home-delivered nutrition services, and to transfer an additional 20 percent of such funds under a waiver to be approved by the Assistant Secretary. It also specifies the content of a State's request for a waiver to transfer funds in an amount exceeding 30 percent of the respective allotments.

Transfer of funds between supportive and nutrition services programs. Section 306 allows States to transfer up to 30 percent of their allotments of funds for supportive and nutrition services between the respective allotments.

Section 307. Availability of disaster relief funds to tribal organizations

Section 307 revises provisions related to disaster relief reimbursement by adding authority for the Assistant Secretary to provide reimbursement to tribal organizations under title VI of the act.

Section 308. Nutrition services incentives program

Section 308 revises requirements related to the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) method of reimbursement to the title III nutrition program by stipulating that payments to States will be based on the relative number of meals served by the State the preceding fiscal year, as compared to all States. (Current law bases reimbursement to States on a specified, per meal rate, adjusted annually by the USDA.)

Section 308 also clarifies that tribal organizations eligible under title VI of the act may receive USDA payments based on the number of meals served by the tribal organization the preceding fiscal year, as compared to all tribal organizations. It also specifies procedures for payments to tribal organizations that did not receive USDA assistance during a preceding fiscal year.

Section 308 authorizes $460 million for FY2001 and such sums as may be necessary for FY2002–FY2005.

Section 309. Consumer contributions and waivers

Consumer contributions

Cost sharing. Section 309 permits a State to implement cost sharing by recipients for certain services funded by the act. States are prohibited from applying cost sharing to the following services: information and assistance, outreach, benefits counseling, case management, ombudsman, elder abuse prevention, legal assistance, consumer protection services, congregate and home-delivered nutrition services, and services delivered through tribal organizations. State agencies are:

- Prohibited from applying cost sharing to low-income older individuals (defined as an income at or below the Federal poverty level) and from considering assets, savings, or other property owned by individuals when creating a sliding scale for cost sharing, or when seeking contributions from older individuals;

- Authorized to exclude from cost sharing low-income individuals with income above the Federal poverty level;
- Required to establish a sliding scale based solely on individual income and the cost of delivering services; and
- Required to ensure that each area agency on aging will ensure that each service provider, and the area agency on aging, protect the privacy and confidentiality of each older individual; establish procedures to safeguard and account for cost share payments; use payments to expand services subject to cost sharing; determine the eligibility of older individuals to cost share on a confidential declaration of income, and with no requirement for verification; and distribute cost sharing requirements in written materials in languages reflecting the reading abilities of older individuals. Each service provider and area agency on aging is prohibited from denying any services to older individuals due to their income or failure to make cost sharing payments.

Section 309 allows area agencies on aging to request a waiver of the State's cost sharing policies. The State is required to approve a waiver if the area agency can demonstrate that a significant number of persons receiving title III services have income below the low-income threshold established by the State, or that cost sharing would be an unreasonable administrative or financial burden on the area agency.

State and area agencies are required to ensure that the participation rates of low-income older individuals (with particular attention to low-income minority individuals) receiving services will not decrease due to implementation of State cost sharing policies.

Section 309 further requires the Assistant Secretary to conduct an evaluation of State cost sharing practices to determine their effect on participation of older persons in the program. If the Assistant Secretary finds that cost sharing policies have a disparate impact on low-income or minority older individuals, then corrective action is to be taken. The evaluation is to take place no later than 1 year after enactment, and annually thereafter.

Voluntary contributions. Section 309 stipulates that voluntary contributions must be allowed, and may be solicited, for all services under the act, as long as the method of solicitation is noncoercive. Area agencies are:

- Required to consult with relevant services providers and older individuals in the planning and service areas to determine the best methods for accepting voluntary contributions;
- Prohibited from applying means tests for any services subject to voluntary contributions and from denying services to persons who do not make a contribution, with a further stipulation that these prohibitions extend to service providers; and
- Required to ensure that service providers give older individuals an opportunity to voluntarily contribute to the cost of services; clearly inform the recipient that there is no obligation to contribute and that the contribution is purely voluntary; protect the privacy and confidentiality of each older individual with respect to voluntary contributions; establish procedures to safeguard and account for cost share payments; and use payments to expand services subject to cost sharing.

Section 309 also requires State and area agencies, in conducting public hearings on their respective plans, to solicit the views of older individuals, providers, and other stakeholders on implementation of cost sharing.

Waivers. Section 309 also allows the Assistant Secretary to waive any provisions of section 305 of the act (State organization); section 306 of the act (area plan requirements); section 307 of the act (State plan requirements); prohibitions on transfers of funds between supportive and nutrition services; and requirements related to State maintenance of effort.

The section establishes conditions under which waivers may be granted, including requirements that the State has obtained, if necessary, approval of the State legislature; has collaborated with area agencies and other affected organizations regarding the waiver request; has made the proposal available for review and comment, including the opportunity for a public hearing upon request; and has given consideration to the probable positive and negative consequences of the waiver, among other things.

The section also establishes provisions regarding duration of waivers and reports to the Assistant Secretary.

Section 310. Supportive services and senior centers

Section 310 clarifies and expands the supportive services that may be provided under title III, including adding reference to in-home and caregiver services. It also specifies that title III funds for services may not supplant any Federal, State, or local government funds expended by a State or unit of general purpose local government.

Section 311. Nutrition services

Section 311 repeals subpart 3 of nutrition services, School-based Meals for Volunteer Older Individuals, and Multigenerational Programs. Instead, it authorizes States to provide, to older individuals served in congregate nutrition settings, opportunities to interact with students on a regular basis.

Section 312. Payment requirement

Section 312 repeals section 339A of the act which prohibits a State or area agency from reducing title III payments to reflect any increase in funds for nutrition services provided by the USDA.

Section 313. In-home services and additional assistance

Section 313 repeals part D, in-home services for frail older individuals, and part E, additional assistance for special needs of older individuals.

Section 314. Definition

Section 314 repeals section 363 of the act, definitions for the disease prevention and health promotion services program (the definitions are contained in section 102 of the bill).

Section 315. National Family Caregiver Support Program

Section 315 establishes a new part E (sections 371-376), National Family Caregiver Support Program, requiring the Assistant Secretary to make grants for multifaceted systems of support for family caregivers, and grandparents or certain older individuals who are caregivers of children.

Service and eligibility. Services to be provided to caregivers are: information and assistance in gaining access to services; counseling, support groups, and caregiver training; respite care; and supplemental services on a limited basis (such as home care, personal care, adult day care, among others). Persons eligible for caregiver assistance are caregivers of older individuals who are unable to perform at least 2 activities of daily living (ADLs) (bathing, dressing, eating, toileting, getting around inside the home, and transferring from a bed to a chair) without substantial human assistance; or who require substantial supervision due to a cognitive or other mental impairment.

Part E requires States to give priority for caregiver services to older individuals with the greatest social and economic need, and older individuals who are caregivers of persons with mental retardation and related developmental disabilities (MR/DD). A State may not use more than 10 percent of the total Federal and non-Federal part E funds for support services for grandparents and older individuals who are relative caregivers.

Federal funds, administration, and quality standards. The Federal/State matching requirement for part E funds is 75 percent Federal funds/25 percent State and local funds. The State is allowed to use funds under this program for area plan administration. This part also establishes requirements for quality standards, data collection, reports, and maintenance of State and local efforts for caregiver support services.

Formula for distribution of funds to States. Part E establishes a formula for distribution of family caregiver support funds to States. The formula bases State allotments on two factors: a measure of a State's relative "elderly-in-need" (EIN) percentage, and the caregiver allotment percentage.

Elderly-in-need (EIN) percentage. The EIN is the weighted sum of the following 7 categories. To calculate a State's EIN, each State's relative share (percent) of persons in each category is multiplied by the applicable weight and then summed.

Category	Formula weight
State's 60+ population	0.58
State's 70–74 population	0.03
State's 75–79 population	0.08
State's 80–84 population	0.09
State's 85+ population	0.15
State's 60+ population below the poverty level	0.03
State's 60+ nonwhite population	0.04
Total weights	1.00

Caregiver allotment percentage. The caregiver allotment percentage is the result obtained through the following calculations:

- (1) Dividing a State's total taxable resources (TTR) percentage by its EIN. The TTR percentage is the result obtained by dividing the total taxable resources of the State by the total taxable resources of all States. The TTR is the most recent 3-year arithmetic mean of the total taxable resources of the State as determined by the Secretary of the Treasury;
- (2) Multiplying the result obtained in (1) by 0.65; and
- (3) Subtracting the result obtained in (2) from 1.00.

The caregiver allotment percentage must be between 0.32 and 0.40. Special consideration is to be given to poverty and nonwhite factors in determining the caregiver formula for Puerto Rico.

Demonstration and evaluation activities. Part E requires the Assistant Secretary to award competitive grants for demonstration projects for new approaches to caregiver support services; evaluate caregiver grant programs, and disseminate descriptions of the evaluations to States; and award funds for activities of national significance to promote quality and improvement in caregiver activities. Provisions for demonstration, evaluation activities, and projects of national significance will be effective for 3 fiscal years after the date of enactment.

TITLE IV—TRAINING, RESEARCH, AND DISCRETIONARY PROJECTS AND PROGRAMS

Section 401. Projects and programs

Section 401 amends the purpose statement of title IV as follows: to expand the Nation's knowledge and understanding of the older population and the aging process; to design, test, and promote innovative ideas and best practices in programs and services for older individuals; to train personnel in the field of aging; and to increase awareness by all citizens to assume personal responsibility for their own longevity.

Section 401 authorizes the Assistant Secretary to make grants to, and enter into contracts with, States, public agencies, private nonprofit agencies, institutions of higher education, and tribal organizations in order to carry out education and training, applied social research, program evaluation, demonstration programs, and technical assistance.

Authorization of appropriations. Section 401 authorizes $72 million for FY2001, and such sums as may be necessary for FY2002–FY2005, for title IV activities.

New provisions to title IV of the act. Section 401 adds the provisions for the following new title IV activities:

Older women's protection from violence projects. Section 401 requires the Assistant Secretary to make grants to States, area agencies on aging, nonprofit organizations, or tribal organizations to:

- Support projects in local communities to coordinate activities related to intervention in, and prevention of, elder abuse, neglect, and exploitation;
- Develop and implement outreach programs directed toward older individuals who are victims of abuse, neglect, and exploitation;
- Expand access to domestic violence and sexual assault programs; and
- Promote research on legal, organizational, or training impediments to providing such services to older individuals.

In awarding such grants, section 401 requires the Assistant Secretary to give preference to those entities which have the ability to carry out the activities described, and title VII of the act. It also requires the Assistant Secretary to encourage each grant recipient to coordinate violence protection activities with other organizations.

Health care services demonstration projects in rural areas. Section 401 requires the Assistant Secretary to make grants to develop and operate model health care service projects through multipurpose senior centers that are located in rural areas and that provide title III nutrition services. The section sets forth application requirements, including assurances that the applicant will carry out the project through a multipurpose senior center located in (a) a rural area with fewer than 5,000 residents or county with fewer than 6 individuals per square mile, and (b) a State in which one-third or more of the population resides in rural areas and 5 percent or more of the population resides in counties with fewer than 7 individuals per square mile.

Computer training. Section 401 authorizes the Assistant Secretary to award grants or contracts to entities to provide computer training for older individuals. If such grants are awarded, the Assistant Secretary is required to give priority to entities that provide services to older individuals living in rural areas; have demonstrated expertise in providing computer training to older individuals; or have demonstrated a variety of training delivery methods that may facilitate training for older individuals.

Recipients of a grant or contract are required to use funds in order to improve self-employment and employment-related technology skills of older individuals, including use of the Internet, and to provide training at senior centers, housing facilities for older individuals, elementary schools, secondary schools, and institutions of higher education.

Technical assistance to improve transportation for seniors. Section 401 authorizes the Secretary to award grants or contracts to nonprofit organizations to improve transportation services for older individuals, including technical assistance to local transit providers, area agencies on aging, senior centers, and local senior support groups.

Provisions eliminated. Section 401 amends title IV by eliminating a number of authorized programs, including:

- Demonstration projects and programs designed to receive special consideration for funding by the Assistant Secretary (section 422 of the act);
- Certain national impact activities (section 425 of the act);
- Utility and home heating cost demonstration projects (section 426 of the act);
- Consumer protection demonstration projects for services provided in the home (section 428 of the act);
- Supportive services in Federally assisted housing demonstrations (section 429–A of the act);
- Neighborhood senior care programs (section 429–B of the act);
- Information and assistance systems development projects (section 429–C of the act);
- Senior transportation demonstrations (section 429–D of the act);
- Demonstration programs for older individuals with developmental disabilities (section 429–F of the act);
- Housing demonstration programs (section 429–G of the act);
- Private resource enhancement projects (section 429–H of the act);

- Grants that serve the needs of minority students in the field of aging (section 429–I of the act); and
- Pension rights demonstration projects (section 429–J of the act) (similar pension project provisions are contained in section 201 of the bill).

TITLE IV—ACTIVITIES AMENDED BY THE BILL

The following provisions are amended.

Special projects in comprehensive long-term care. Section 401 amends section 423 of the act, Special Projects in Comprehensive Long-Term Care, to eliminate reference to a 1991 hold harmless amount for resource centers.

Native American programs. Section 401 amends section 429E to add a requirement that the Assistant Secretary award funds for in-service training opportunities and courses of instruction on aging to Indian tribes, and for an annual national meeting to train Native American elders resource centers directors.

Demonstration and support projects for legal assistance for older individuals. Section 401 amends Section 424 of the act to require the Assistant Secretary to award funds to national nonprofit organizations experienced in providing support and technical assistance to States, area agencies, ombudsmen, elderly abuse prevention programs, and other organizations that assist older individuals with legal rights activities (in addition to legal assistance providers listed in current law).

TITLE V—AMENDMENTS TO TITLE V OF THE OLDER AMERICANS ACT OF 1965

Section 501. Amendment to title V of the Older Americans Act of 1965

Section 501 of the bill makes the following changes in title V of the act.

Purpose

The bill amends the purpose statement of title V to include as one of the program purposes to foster the economic self-sufficiency of eligible persons and to increase the number of persons who may benefit from unsubsidized employment in both the public and the private sectors.

Indian tribal organization projects

The bill adds a new provision specifying that if a title V project is carried out by a tribal organization, then it must provide employment for eligible individuals, including Indians who reside on tribal reservations.

Coordination with the Workforce Investment Act of 1998

The bill includes a number of provisions regarding coordination of title V activities with those under the Workforce Investment Act (WIA) of 1998. These include requirements that:

- The project use methods to recruit, and provide services to, title V participants through the WIA one-stop delivery system; and

- Projects that carry out second-career training, and projects with private business, coordinate with WIA programs. (The bill also eliminates a requirement for reports on these projects that was due in 1982, and the definition of eligible individuals under these projects.)

One-stop partners and memoranda of understanding. In addition, the bill specifies that title V grantees are one-stop partners under WIA and are required to carry out the responsibilities of such partners. It requires that where there is more than one title V grantee in a work force investment area, grantees must coordinate their activities with the one-stop delivery system and sign a memorandum of understanding established under the WIA.

Participant assessments and services. The bill authorizes title V projects to use participant assessments prepared under other employment training programs, including WIA. It also specifies that title V participant assessment and service strategies are to be used to meet assessment and service strategies requirements under WIA (subtitle B of title I); and that WIA assessment and service strategies are to be used to meet title V requirements. Also, title V participants may be deemed eligible by local workforce involvement boards under title I of WIA.

Administrative and program costs

The bill adds definitions of program and administrative costs, as follows:

Definition of program costs. The bill requires that funds, not otherwise obligated, are to be used for programmatic activities. These are:

- Enrollee wages and fringe benefits (including physical exams);
- Enrollee training;
- Job placement assistance, including job development and search assistance;
- Enrollee supportive services, including transportation, health and medical services, special job-related or personal counseling, incidentals (work shoes, badges, uniforms, eyeglasses, and tools); child and adult care, temporary shelter, and follow-up services; and
- Outreach, recruitment and selection, intake, orientation, and assessments.

Minimum amount to be spent on program costs. This bill requires that a minimum of 75 percent of Federal funds must be used to pay enrollee wages and fringe benefits. (Now, Department of Labor (DoL) regulations, but not the law, require that a minimum of 75 percent of Federal funds be spent on wages and fringe benefits.)

Definition of administrative costs. Costs of administration are personnel and non-personnel, and direct and indirect costs, of performing and coordinating the following general administrative functions:

- Accounting, budgeting, financial, and cash management;
- Procurement and purchasing;
- Property management;
- Personnel management;
- Payroll;

- Coordinating the resolution of audits, reviews, investigations, and incident reports;
- Audits;
- General legal services;
- Development of system procedures, including information systems, required for administration; and
- Oversight and monitoring.

Administration also includes goods and services used for administration; travel; and information systems related to administration.

The bill also requires that, to the maximum extent practicable, title V grantees must provide for payment of administrative expenses from non-Federal sources.

(Note: The bill does not change current law requirements that no more than 13.5 percent of Federal funds may be used for administration, with secretarial approval to use up to 15 percent under certain circumstances.)

Administrative allocation to subprojects. The bill requires that title V projects are to pass through to entities operating under the project (including State or local offices, subgrantees, subcontractors, or other affiliates of the organization or agency) a sufficient portion of the administrative cost allocation to cover their administrative costs.

ADMINISTRATION

State senior employment services coordination plan. The bill adds new requirements for a State senior employment services plan. The Governor of each State is required to submit to the Secretary an annual State senior employment services plan.

Plan content. The bill requires the plan to identify the number of eligible persons in areas of the State, including their distribution among rural and urban areas; the relative distribution of eligible individuals with greatest economic need, with greatest social need, and who are minorities; the employment situations and skills of eligible individuals; localities and populations where title V projects are most needed; and plans to coordinate title V activities with activities under WIA.

Participants in the State planning process. The bill requires the plan to include a description of the planning process used to ensure participation of representatives of the following: State and area agencies on aging; State and local work force investment boards; public and private nonprofit providers of employment services; social service organizations; title III grantees; affected communities; underserved older individuals; community-based organizations; and business and labor organizations. The State must submit any public comments on the plan to the Secretary.

Governor's recommendations on grant proposals. The bill requires Governors to be given an opportunity to make comments to the Secretary on title V grant proposals prior to submission of grant proposals to DoL. The Governor may comment on the anticipated effect of the grant proposal and may make recommendations regarding distribution or redistribution of employment positions to areas of a State.

The bill stipulates that in developing the State plan, any disruptions in community service opportunities are to be avoided.

The section also sets forth procedures for availability of the State plan for public comment; Secretarial comment on the plan; Secretarial review of distribution of title V services and projects; and collaboration of the Secretary with Indian tribal organizations on projects serving older Indians.

Coordination of title V with other programs. The bill requires the Secretary of Labor and the Assistant Secretary on Aging to coordinate title V with other programs under the act. The bill also requires the Secretary to coordinate title V with WIA and other Federal programs, and prohibits title V appropriations from being used to carry out any of the specified programs.

Monitoring, evaluation, record keeping, and reports. The bill adds provisions regarding Secretarial responsibilities for monitoring title V grantees; grantee compliance with Federal law and regulations and with Office of Management and Budget (OMB) requirements; and grantee record keeping.

Distribution of title V appropriations

Initial reservation of funds. The bill revises provisions regarding distribution of title V funds. The Secretary is required to reserve:

- 1.5 percent of the total appropriation for projects for second-career training and agreements with private business concerns;
- No more than 0.75 percent of the total appropriation for Guam, American Samoa, the U.S. Virgin Islands (which are to receive 30 percent of the 0.75 percent amount), and the Commonwealth of the Northern Mariana Islands (which is to receive 10 percent of the 0.75 percent amount); and
- Such sums as may be necessary for national grants with public or nonprofit national Indian aging organizations and Pacific island and Asian American aging organizations with the ability to provide employment services to these populations.

Allotment formula, and FY2000 hold harmless for States, national grantees, and State grantees. After funds have been reserved for the above purposes, the Secretary is required to allot funds so that each State (i.e., geographic entity) receives funds based on its relative share of the population aged 55 and over, and the State's relative per capita income.

However, a State must receive no less than it received in FY2000. In addition, public and private nonprofit agencies and organizations operating under national grants or contracts are to receive, collectively, no less than they received to maintain their FY2000 level of activities in the State. Similarly, each State grantee is to receive no less than it received to maintain its FY2000 level of activities.

Allocation of funds in excess of the FY2000 hold harmless level. When appropriations exceed the amounts needed for the initial reservations and for the FY2000 hold harmless amount, the excess is to be allotted according to a State's relative population aged 55 and over and its relative per capita income. But each State is to receive a percent increase over its FY2000 allotment that is at least 30 percent of the percentage increase in the total appropriation over the FY2000 allotments to all States.

In addition, the provision stipulates that any excess in appropriations up to the first $35 million is to be allocated so that 75 percent is provided to States and 25 percent to national grantees. Funds appropriated above the first $35 million are to be divided equally between State agencies and public or private nonprofit agencies or organizations.

Definitions of “level of activities” and “cost per authorized position.” For purposes of allocation of funds and determining the FY2000 hold harmless amount, “level of activities” is defined as “the number of authorized positions multiplied by the cost per authorized position.”

“Cost per authorized position” is defined as the sum of:

- The hourly minimum wage specified in the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938, multiplied by 1,092 hours (21 hours times 52 weeks);
- An amount equal to 11 percent of the above amount to cover Federal payments for fringe benefits; and
- An amount determined by the Secretary to cover Federal payments for all other remaining program and administrative costs.

Equitable distribution of funds among and within States

The bill requires the Secretary, to the extent feasible, to assure an equitable distribution of title V activities among all States, taking into account the needs of underserved States.

In addition, the amount for each State is to be allocated equitably, taking into consideration State priorities under the State senior employment services coordination plan as set forth by the bill. Each State agency is required to submit to the Secretary a report on its compliance with the intrastate equitable distribution requirement. The report must include the names and geographic locations of all title V projects and the amounts allocated to the projects.

State/area agency review and comment of proposed title V grants

The bill requires title V projects to provide State and area agencies a 90-day review and comment period (rather than 30 days, as under current law), prior to the start of a title V project in the State/planning and service area.

Establishment of performance measures

The bill adds new requirements that the Secretary establish performance measures for title V projects and services carried out by States and other grantees. It also requires the Secretary to establish regulations regarding evaluation of the performance of title V projects and services, and to publish results of the evaluations. Performance measures must be designed to promote continuous improvement in performance. They may only be adjusted to account for the following adjustment factors:

- High rates of unemployment, poverty, or welfare reciprocity in areas served by the grantee, relative to other areas of the State or the Nation;
- Significant downturns in the economy in the area served by the grantee or in the national economy; and
- Significant numbers or proportions of enrollees with 1 or more barriers to employment served by a grantee relative to grantees serving other areas of the State or the Nation.

The performance measures must include indicators of performance and levels of performance applicable to each indicator. Indicators of performance must include:

- Number of persons served, with particular consideration to individuals with the greatest economic or social need, poor employment history or prospects, and those over the age of 60;
- Community services provided;
- Placement and retention into unsubsidized public or private employment;
- Satisfaction of enrollees, employers, and their host agencies with the experiences and services provided; and
- Any additional indicators determined appropriate by the Secretary.

The Secretary is required to issue definitions of performance indicators.

Performance measure regarding placement and retention into unsubsidized employment. The Secretary is required to establish a performance measure that requires projects to transition a minimum of 20 percent (of authorized employment positions) into unsubsidized public or private employment. This measure may be adjusted to account for the adjustment factors listed above.

“Placement into unsubsidized employment” is defined as full- or part-time employment in the public or private sector by an enrollee for 30 days within a 90-day period without support from title V funds, or any other State or Federal employment subsidy program. It may also be the equivalent of a specified amount of employment as measured by the earnings of an enrollee through a review of wage records or other methods.

“Retention into unsubsidized employment” is defined as full- or part-time employment in the public or private sectors by an enrollee for 6 months after the starting date of placement into unsubsidized employment.

Annual performance evaluation of public or private nonprofit agencies and organization grantees, and of State grantees. The bill requires that performance of title V public or private nonprofit agency and organization grantees will be evaluated annually, on a national and State basis. The performance of title V State grantees will also be evaluated annually on a statewide basis. Performance of both types of grantees will be judged regardless of whether the grantees operate the program directly, or through contracts or agreements with other agencies. Grantees must agree to an evaluation of their performance as a condition of the grant.

Competition for title V funds

This section requires the Secretary to award funds for a 1-year period, and for a 3-year period to begin after the promulgation of regulations on performance measures.

Eligibility criteria. Criteria to receive a grant are the applicant’s ability to:

- Administer a program that serves the greatest number of eligible individuals, with particular consideration to individuals with the greatest economic need, greatest social need, poor employment history or prospects, and over the age of 60;

- Administer a program that provides employment for eligible individuals in the community in which they reside, and that will contribute to the community's general welfare;
- Administer a program that moves eligible individuals, and individuals with multiple barriers to employment, into unsubsidized employment;
- Coordinate with other State and local organizations; and
- Provide fiscal management.

The Secretary is authorized to develop other appropriate criteria in selection of grantees under the competitive process.

Responsibility tests. This bill requires the Secretary to review the applicant's overall responsibility to administer Federal funds. The Secretary is authorized to consider any information, including the organization's history in the management of other grants. It also establishes certain responsibility tests and specifies that applicants found not responsible may not be selected as grantees under the program.

Failure to meet the following 2 tests will establish that the organization is not responsible to administer Federal funds:

- Unsuccessful efforts by the organization to recover debts established by final agency action after 3 demand letters have been sent, and failure to comply with a repayment plan; and
- Established fraud or criminal activity of a significant nature within the organization.

Failure to meet other tests set forth in the section would not establish that the organization is not responsible, unless failure to meet the tests is substantial or persistent (for 2 or more consecutive years). These tests include:

- Serious administrative deficiencies;
- Willful obstruction of the audit process;
- Failure to provide services to applicants;
- Failure to correct deficiencies found in monitoring or assessment; and
- Failure to return a grant closeout package or required reports, among other things.

Performance measures and competition requirements for public and private nonprofit agencies and organization grantees, and for State grantees. The bill contains requirements and procedures for competition for funds when national public and private nonprofit agencies and organization grantees and State grantees fail to meet performance standards. The Secretary is required to determine if a public or private nonprofit agency grantee or a State grantee has met the national performance measures established by the bill within 120 days after the end of a program year (July 1–June 30).

Requirements for technical assistance and competition when national grantees fail to meet performance measures. If a national grantee fails to meet performance measures, the Secretary is required to provide technical assistance. The grantee is required to submit a corrective action plan no later than 40 days after the Secretary's determination.

After the second consecutive year of failure, the Secretary is required to conduct a national competition to award 25 percent of the grantee's funds to another organization. If the grantee fails to meet performance measures for a third consecutive year, the Secretary is required to conduct a national competition to award the remainder of the grantee's funds to another organization(s). The recipient of these funds must continue to provide services to the geographic area served by the original grantee.

The bill also specifies actions to be taken by the Secretary when a project administered by a national grantee operating in a State falls below 20 percent of the national performance measures (even though the grantee has met the national standards). After the first year of failure by the project in a State, the Secretary is required to establish a corrective action plan, and is authorized to transfer responsibility for the project to other grantees, provide technical assistance, or take other actions. After the second year of failure, corrective action by the Secretary may include transfer of responsibility for a portion, or for all, of the project to a State or public or private nonprofit agency or organization. Or the Secretary may provide for competition of a portion, or all, of the funds among all eligible entities that meet the responsibility tests described above. After the third consecutive year of failure, the Secretary is required to subject all of the project's funds to competition.

In addition, the Secretary is obligated to review the performance of a national grantee operating in the State upon a request by the Governor.

Requirements for technical assistance and competition when State grantees fail to meet performance measures. If a State grantee fails to meet the performance measures, the Secretary is required to provide technical assistance. The grantee is to submit a corrective action plan no later than 40 days after the Secretary's determination. After the second consecutive year of failure, the State is required to subject 25 percent of the grantee's funds to competition. If the grantee fails to meet performance measures for a third consecutive year, the State is required to subject the remainder of the grantee's funds to competition.

Authorization of appropriations

The bill authorizes the following appropriations:

A State may exclude from cost sharing low-income individuals whose incomes are above the Federal poverty line. A State shall not consider any assets, savings, or other property owned by older individuals when defining low-income individuals who are exempt from cost sharing, when creating a sliding scale for the cost sharing, or when seeking contributions from any older individual.*

(4) PAYMENT RATES.—If a State permits the cost sharing described in paragraph (1), such State shall establish a sliding scale, based solely on individual income and the cost of delivering services.

(5) REQUIREMENTS.—If a State permits the cost sharing described in paragraph (1), such State shall require each area agency on aging in the State to ensure that each service provider involved, and the area agency on aging, will—

(A) protect the privacy and confidentiality of each older individual with respect to the declaration or non-declara-

(D) not consider assets, savings, or other property owned by an older individual in determining whether cost sharing is permitted;

(F) determine the eligibility of older individuals to cost share solely by a confidential declaration of income and with no requirement for verification; and

(G) widely distribute State created written materials in languages reflecting the reading abilities of older individuals that describe the criteria for cost sharing, the State's sliding scale, and the mandate described under subparagraph (E).

(6) WAIVER.—An area agency on aging may request a waiver to the State's cost sharing policies, and the State shall approve such a waiver if the area agency on aging can adequately demonstrate that—

(B) cost sharing would be an unreasonable administrative or financial burden upon the area agency on aging.

(b) VOLUNTARY CONTRIBUTIONS.—

(2) PLANS.—Prior to the implementation of cost sharing under subsection (a), each State and area agency on aging shall develop plans that are designed to ensure that the participation of low-income older individuals (with particular attention to low-income minority individuals) receiving services will not decrease with the implementation of the cost sharing under such subsection.

(d) EVALUATION.—Not later than 1 year after the date of enactment of the Older Americans Act Amendments of 2000, and annually thereafter, the Assistant Secretary shall conduct a comprehensive evaluation of practices for cost sharing to determine its impact on participation rates with particular attention to low-income and minority older individuals. If the Assistant Secretary finds that there is a disparate impact upon low-income or minority older individuals in any State or region within the State regarding the provision of services, the Assistant Secretary shall take corrective action to assure that such services are provided to all older individuals without regard to the cost sharing criteria.

SEC. 316. WAIVERS.

(3) any State plan requirement described in section 307(a) if granting the waiver will promote innovations or improve service delivery and will not diminish services already provided under this Act;

(4) any restriction under paragraph (5) of section 308(b), on the amount that may be transferred between programs carried out under part B and part C; and

(5) the requirement of section 309(c) that certain amount of a State allotment be used for the provision of services, with respect to a State that reduces expenditures under the State plan of the State (but only to the extent that the non-Federal share of the expenditures is not reduced below any minimum specified in section 304(d) or any other provision of this title).
